SecureDevice becomes part of Swiss IT Security Group

Wettingen (CH), Søborg (DK) 12th, December 2022

Swiss IT Security Group (SITS Group) has acquired SecureDevice A/S, a Danish Security-as-a-service specialist. The acquisition further strengthens the portfolio of cyber security services of SITS Group and provides another important milestone in the group's quest of becoming one of Europe's leading cyber security service providers to enterprise customers, public institutions, and SMEs. Terms and conditions of the transaction are not disclosed.

SecureDevice's MDR/SOC solutions (Managed Detection and Response/Security Operations Center), which are continuously monitoring all security-related events in the customers' networks, are a key element of an effective cyber security posture. The intelligent and automated solutions provide customers the ability to detect threats early and to respond rapidly in an increasingly complex cyber security threat landscape.

Founded in 2004 in Søborg (Denmark), SecureDevice provides state-of-the-art security services to large companies in the private and public sector. SecureDevice's service offering is based on a strong internal technological platform, partnerships with globally leading cybersecurity vendors, like IBM Security, Microsoft, Cisco and others, and a team of highly qualified cyber security specialists.

"We are very pleased to join Swiss IT Security Group and to have found an experienced and reliable partner for sustainable growth respecting our company culture and DNA. To develop and scale our solutions across Europe, SITS Group is the right partner to jointly offer a comprehensive cyber security portfolio to our customers." explains founder and CEO Michael Albek.

"SecureDevice with its powerful and scalable services in the MDR/SOC market and a strong delivery platform further strengthens our position as one of Europe's leading IT security services companies. From now on we can offer our customers a nearly complete portfolio of IT security services. At the same time, SecureDevice customers can profit from access to an even increased service portfolio in the areas of protection, detection, and defense." adds Dr. Christian Oversohl, CEO of Swiss IT Security Group.

About SecureDevice
SecureDevice A/S is a Danish IT security business. Their core business is consultancy advice on, and delivery of, market-leading IT security solutions for Scandinavia's top enterprises. SecureDevice considers it to be particularly important that their employees have deep technical insight and broad experience of implementing IT security solutions in different IT environments at some of Scandinavia's most security conscious companies. Their consultants are familiar with all details of the delivered solutions and are highly experienced in matters of IT security.

About Swiss IT Security Group AG
The Swiss IT Security Group, headquartered in Wettingen (Switzerland), offers its customers comprehensive security services and solutions. With 600+ employees, the company combines the know-how, resources, and services of a top-class IT security provider into a comprehensive service provider and offers its customers overall IT security concepts based on the aspects of protection, detection, and defense with the help of innovative solutions and technologies.

More Information: www.sits-group.ch/en

Press contact:

Swiss IT Security Group I Etzelmatt 1 I 5430 Wettingen I Switzerland
Olaf Pursche, Head of Marketing & Communications
E-Mail: olaf.pursche@sits-group.ch
T +49 151 51254069